

THE IRISH INDEPENDENT
DUBLIN, REPUBLIC OF IRELAND
30 SEPTEMBER 1910
(page 7)

A New Mysticism.

Mr. Aleister Crowley, described by the "Morning Leader" as an Irishman, has formed a Sect of Seers, who are going to perform the Rites of Eleusis in a series of seven presentations at the Caxton Hall, London. Within the next two months only 100 tickets, costing five guineas each, will be issued for the series.